Overview

Nepal Heritage Tour takes you to the prehistoric sites that are located in three districts, namely Kathmandu, Bhaktapur, and Lalitpur, and that have chalked up to the title of UNESCO World Heritage Sites. From the distance, it also helps you to explore craggy mountains and takes you to the apogees of the Chitwan National Park, the birthplace of Lord Buddha, and leads you to the beautiful inspiring places like Tansen and Pokhara, and what could be better than this to make your holiday ideal in Nepal.

Thriving as the most popular tourist place of Nepal, Pokhara is at the apex of its liveliest since its hidden delights were discovered by the eyes of the outsiders, it has its own buzz, also it has its own appeals. It has always been the best. Inland, Pokhara has lakes, and its backdrop consists of the Annapurna Ranges, which seem to be distant far away, but its visibility makes us feel that it is within our reach. Besides seeing these, you will also visit Bindabasini temple, world peace stupa, and mountain museum, and around this temple, there is a lake, perfect for boating.

There is so much to see in Tansen through Nepal Heritage Tour because Tansen is a beautiful hill station, and you will love it at first sight, and it is so liberal at offering you a spectacular view of the Himalayas as well as those of the plain region that you will love it for its extraordinariness. Handicrafts and Tansen are parallel to each other.

Of all, the most important historical heritage sites of Nepal that you visit during the tour are the Maya Devi Temple, Ashoka Pillar, and monasteries. And when it comes to the exploration of the natural sites, Chitwan National Park offers you an opportunity to ride on an elephant and takes you near to wild animals, such as one-horned rhino, Royal Bengal Tiger, langur monkeys, wild boar, sloth bear, jungle cats, pythons, crocodiles, deer, etc.

Overall, every part of the Nepal Heritage Tour is welcoming and is known for every specialty from natural beauties to historical monuments.
