Nepal is not only popular for its legendary Himalayas, but also for the rivers that originate from these snow massifs. Situated on the lap of great Himalayas, Nepal provides you many fast-flowing rivers to feel the real taste of water thrill. Rafting and kayaking across the fast-flowing rivers are one of the ultimate adventurous sport by which you can explore Nepal via water in an ultimate way. You should not miss the river and rafting fun when you are in Nepal. So we are here with our one-day rafting packages to all the rafting lovers. We offer you rafting in Trishuli River.

Trishuli is one of the major rivers of Nepal which is originated from the autonomous region of China. It is believed that high in the Himalayas at Gosaikunda, Shiva drove his trident (Trishul in Nepali) into the ground to create three springs the source of the river and hence it was named as Trishuli. Since Trishuli River has got some exciting Georges, stirring waves and some easier sections, it is quite popular for rafting in Nepal. Besides this, Trishuli River is easily accessible from Kathmandu and Pokhara which has made this river a busy one. Also, this river is suitable for all beginners, mediators and experts. As rapid water is not so high, beginners can have lots of fun rafting in this river.
