Overview

Nepal without any doubt is one of the most beautiful countries in the world. Enriched with natural beauty, its peculiar landscapes and rare floras and faunas, Nepal can lure anyone to visit. The best part of Nepal is that she can amaze visitors with new destinations anytime. A new trekking route has been open for the visitor's named Guerilla trekking trail. Nepal had once gone through the decade-long civil war (1996-2006) where about 16000 people lost their lives and the Guerilla was the center of that revaluation. Therefore you can know about the history of before and after the revolution. This route leads you through the trail that was once used by the Maoist rebels.

Guerilla trekking trail is a newly explored tourism destination in the mid-western part of Nepal. It is not only enriched with natural beauty but also carries very important historical values from the history of Nepal. Piercing through the districts like Rolpa, Rukum, Baglung, and Myagdi, this trail offers you the views of spectacular Dhaulagiri ranges and some part of the Annapurna range, rhododendrons and pine trees, different hills and rocks, hot water ponds, springs falls. This region will be able to meet your expectations as The region has fresh lakes, hot water pond, Mt. Sisne (5400m), Churen, Gujra, hills and rocks, waterfalls, vast Dhorpatan hunting region, apple farming land and typical Magar culture. Following the natural beauty, history and culture is something this trail is peculiar with.

Last but not the least, explored during the Tourism Year 2011, this region and its natural beauties are still fresh and have not been polluted more. And this region is among the few destinations that have natural, cultural, and historical values. So if you are interested, be ready to pack your bags for 13 days.
